DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. This office action is in response to the amendment submitted on 17 February 2006. Currently claims 1-44, 55-58 and 62-64 are currently pending. Applicant's arguments concerning the rejections over the Ferrier; Montano; Whitney, Jr et al; Fairweather et al and applicant's prior use and/or sale are deemed persuasive and therefore overcome.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claims 1, 6, 10, 28-31 and 55-58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Japanese Patent Specification No. 60-149790 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that the instant claims are not met by the reference as the reference does not appear to teach the same alcohols as instantly claimed. While the abstract teaches the use of a polyhydric alcohols it recites that ethylene glycol and propylene glycol are examples which is not correct.

To this argument the examiner respectfully disagrees as the translation clearly recites on page 3 that ethylene glycol and propylene glycol are examples of the alcohols useable and these are the same types recited by applicant in the instant specification. Therefore clearly the reference teaches the use of the same alcohols and therefore anticipates the instant claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 7-9, 11-13, 26-27 and 39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Japanese Patent Specification No. 60-149790 for the reasons set forth in the previous office action and which are herein incorporated by reference.

Applicant argues that it is unclear as to whether or not the abstract is correct in its description of the alcohols useable. Applicant also argues that the art is non-analogous as it is for stripping tin from copper and there is no suggestion that copper loading is a concern.

As stated in the translation the types of alcohols useable are ethylene glycol and propylene glycol and these are the same types recited by applicant in the instant specification. Accordingly since the reference broadly teaches the use of polyhydric alcohols it is believed to within the level of ordinary skill to substitute other well known polyhydric alcohols for the alcohols of the reference. With respect to applicant arguments that the art is non-analogous art the limitation of "for enhancing adhesion between a copper conducting layer and a dielectric layer during manufacture of a printed circuit board” is an intended use limitation which adds little or no patentable weight to the claim. Furthermore, It is well settled that when a claimed composition appears to be substantially the same as a composition disclosed in the prior art, the burden is properly upon the applicant to prove by way of tangible evidence that the prior art composition does not necessarily possess characteristics attributed to the CLAIMED composition. In re Spada, 911 F.2d 705, 15 USPQ2d 1655 (Fed. Circ. 1990); In re Fitzgerald, 619 F.2d 67, 205 USPQ 594 (CCPA 1980); In re Swinehart, 439 F.2d 2109, 169 USPQ 226 (CCPA 1971).

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 62-64 are allowed.
7. Claims 2-5, 14-25, 32-38, 40-44 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

8. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within

Art Unit: 1755

TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
